■ Background and Objectives

In June 2020, launched KURONEKO Smartphone Just-In-Case Insurance, a web-based insurance policy against unexpected risks, well received as an insurance policy insuring against malfunctions of smartphones, “just in case.” In recent years, the number of natural disasters that cause major damage to homes and household goods has been increasing, and there is a growing need for this kind of “just in case” peace of mind for people's property in their homes.

Against this backdrop, we have launched the sale of property insurance for renters that covers not only important household goods (furniture, appliances, clothing, etc.) in the home but also theft of unattended delivery packages. Through this product, we are helping our customers reduce anxiety and live with peace of mind by providing safeguards against unexpected expenses and damages caused by accidents.
